

Design Documentation Project 1
Akash Darji

1. Create a new Microsoft Word Document. In it, imagine 3 potential User Personas for your Project and do the following:
  1. Identify what class or group of people the Person Represents.

College students

The Elderly

Kids

2. Identify three potential considerations that you will have to take into account when designing your Project 1 that are specific to each Persona (9 things in total).

College students:

- Financial aid

From what I understand the U.S. Department of Education awards more than $120 billion a year in grants, work-study funds, and loans to more than 13 million students. This basically covers expenses such as tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, and transportation. Aid also can help pay for other related expenses, such as a computer and dependent care.

- Family

From what I understand, not all students are going to college after high school. As a student takes on adult responsibilities their role will change, but might need support from family members. The student needs you to support their growth, development, and independence, and to be a stable force in their ever changing world. On occasion, they even need advice but they may or may not ask for it!

- Non technical

This is a weird area to be in especially as a young college student. I see this being applied to older people returning to college. Technology advances but sometimes people don't change with it, like the newest trends, music, software, and know-how to operate.

Elderly people:

- Retirement

Most people don't like to retire because they like to work. It gives them something to do. Can be very difficult to many people to go into retirement. On the other hand many people retire early and enjoy their life.

- Health

When you get older your body starts to deteriorate. So the question of physical and mental health starts to arise.

- Family

Many of the elderly worry about their loves ones and how much they care about them. Many even try to give everything they have to their next of kin for a better and brighter future.

Kids:

- Education

This should be the top priority of the entire world. Every kid should have the basic fundamentals of an education so that later on they can be a productive member of society.

- Safety

In today's day and age it's almost a curse that there are school shootings in the United States. We need to focus and resolve this issue as a nation. Kids should not have to fear to go to school, it's just not right.

- Food Choices

Kids should eat healthy and we should enforce healthy eating habits. We need to reduce the amount of junk foods and replace them with high protein items.
